TRAVEL TRIVIA:

16. What is the dangly piece of flesh called hanging over a turkey's beak? Dangles, snoods, or gobblers?
Answer: Snoods. All turkeys have snoods, however, males have longer snoods (around five inches long) and it's used to attract mates. When a male turkey wants to attract a female, the snood turns bright red and gets even longer. It's believed longer snoods show females which male has more superior genes.
17. How long in days was the first Thanksgiving celebration?
Answer: The first Thanksgiving celebration lasted three days. It was to celebrate the Pilgrims' first successful corn harvest.
18. True or False: Only female turkeys go "gobble, gobble."
Answer: False. Only male turkeys gobble and females cackle. The male turkey is called a tom or gobbler. The female is called a hen and...
19. What are baby turkeys called?
Answer: A poult or chick. A young male is called a jake and a young female is called a jenny. Now we have the whole family: tom, hen, jake, and jenny:)
20. Why do we celebrate Thanksgiving on the fourth Thursday of November?
Answer: On December 26, 1941 Congress passed a law making the fourth Thursday of November the official Thanksgiving holiday. How the holiday's date got to Congress is a long story. You can read it here.
